FIFTY PER CENT MEMBERS TO GO

Expected Over One Half of the Rush
County Odd Fellows Will Attend
Indianapolis Meeting.

798 MEMBERS IN THE COUNTY

Rushville Rebekahs Bid For Honor of Having First Lodge in State—
Other Lodge History.

All over Rush county Odd Fellows are making preparations to attend the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of that order in Indianapolis next week. As has been announced before, arrangements have been completed to run an excursion to Indianapolis by way of Shirley over the Big Four, on which all Rush county Odd Fellows will go. All of the Odd Fellows in the county with the exception of the Carthage lodge will make a parade here previous to the start to Indianapolis Wednesday.

According to the last report there were seven hundred and ninety-eight Odd Fellows in Rush county. It is probable that there are more than that number now as several new members have been taken in recently. The seven lodges are located in the following towns in the county: Milroy, Carthage, Homer, Glenwood, Mays, Rushville and Arlington. It is expected that at least fifty per cent of the membership in the county will go to Indianapolis.

It is an interesting thing to look at a map of Indiana that designates the location of the Odd Fellow lodges. Seemingly the spirit of "Friendship, Love and Truth," the order's fraternal slogan, has spread into almost every highway and byway of Hoosierdom. Go into the smallest town, and if it has any pretentious buildings at all, you are almost certain to see a structure with three links, the emblem of Odd Fellowship.

Indiana is a State of Odd Fellows. There are now 766 subordinate lodges in the State, an average of more than eight to a county. According to the latest returns in the office of Secretary Leedy there are 82,190 members of subordinate lodges in Indiana, a remarkable representation.

The first lodge organized in the State was at New Albany. It was instituted February 3, 1836, and the old house in which it was organized is still standing in West Market street, New Albany, and is occupied as a home. The lodge was designated as New Albany lodge No. 1, but after several years of existence it temporarily surrendered its charter.

Following the institution of New Albany lodge No. 1, the spirit of Odd Fellowship ran along the Indiana side of the Ohio river and lodges were organized in Evansville, Jeffersonville, Vevay, Rising Sun, Madison, Aurora, Rockport, Lawrenceburg and other river points. Lodges also were instituted at Indianapolis, Ft. Wayne, Lafayette and other northern places. The first lodge chartered in Indianapolis was Philoxenian lodge, instituted July 15, 1847.

The order in Indiana has done wonderful service in charity work and the home for its aged and infirm members and its orphans a short distance east of Greensburg is an institution that is annually visited by scores of members of other orders that are seeking to establish similar homes. During the sessions of the sovereign grand lodge two special trains will be run to Greensburg in order that the visiting representatives may see how Indiana Odd Fellows care for their unfortunate brethren and for the orphans of Odd Fellows.

Pennsylvania Opens up New Track
Through Knightstown.

At noon yesterday the gap where the new road crosses the old road was closed by a temporary bridge and the Pennsylvania railroad through the valley in which the towns of Knightstown and Raysville are located became an elevated railroad. The placing of all the through traffic on the new tracks practically marks the completion of the improvement. The public roads on either side of Knightstown are spanned by cement arches and the streets are bridged by steel construction supported by cement abutments and steel piers.

TAKES A RAP AT AUTOMOBILES

Dr. V. W. Tevis of This City, Superintendent of the Connersville
District Talks at Conference.

DEPOPULATE RURAL CHURCHES

Rev. V. W. Tevis registered a clerical "kick" against the automobile in his report for the Connersville district to conference. A special says: That automobiles are playing havoc with the country churches, was the statement in substance made by Superintendent Tevis of the Connersville district, who informed the conference that farmers, after purchasing machines, motor into the city each Sunday for worship, leaving empty pews in rural churches. This, he said, was causing a loss in membership and financial embarrassment for the country congregations.

She lived on the old Matney homestead, near the Pinhook church for over sixty years and had lived in New Salem for the last three years.

WAS DIVORCE DAY INCIRCUIT COURT

Judge Blair Granted Two Decrees,
One to Colored Preacher and Other to Woman.

REV. A. H. SHOEMAKE ON STAND

Another Divorce Hearing Was Expected to be Held and Other Cases Were Tried.

Today was divorce day in the circuit court, two decrees being granted by Judge Blair and preparation was made this afternoon to hear the evidence in a third case.

The Rev. Albert H. Shoemaker, pastor of the Second Baptist church of East Seventh street, was granted a divorce from his wife, Ida Shoemaker this morning, which was the first thing on the program of the busy day in court. The colored preacher testified that his wife associated with bad characters and did not act becoming to a minister's wife. He said that she would not cook his meals at the proper time and often would not get his breakfast until late in the morning.

Leona J. Talbert was granted a divorce from her husband, Harry F. Talbert this morning. Talbert failed to appear in court to fight the granting of the decree. The Talberts reside near Andersonville on the border of the Rush-Franklin county line. There is a State case of wife desertion now pending against Talbert, which has never come to trial.

It was expected that the evidence in the divorce suit of Mary Sweet against James F. Sweet of this city would be heard late this afternoon. The plaintiff lives at 326 Fort Wayne avenue and the defendant is said to be residing in another place.

The case of Frank J. Hall, as administrator of the estate of Lucinda Fairley, against Elizabeth Poundstone and others was begun in the circuit court immediately after the noon intermission. The hearing dragged along in court this afternoon and it was expected that it would be finished by four o'clock.

Alice Loyd brought suit in the circuit court today against her husband, Joel F. Loyd for support. They reside in the southern part of the county. The defendant is now staying in Laurel.

J. Edward Morris filed a specific performance suit against Richard H. Harter and William A. Hughes in court this afternoon.

A baby girl was born to the wife of Walter Green in Gowdy Wednesday.

BOOSTER CROWD TAKES THE TOWN

Rushville, Five Hundred Strong,
Moves on Greensburg, a Shouting Mass of Humanity.

BAND LEADS MONSTER PARADE

Local Delegation is Greeted at Station by Crowd and is Accorded Good Treatment.

Approximately five hundred strong, Rushville marched on Greensburg last night, the occasion being a booster excursion over the Big Four railroad with a double purpose. The Greensburg home-coming and jubilee furnished the amusements and the crowd and Rushville people advertised the annual fall horse show which will be held here October 18 and 19.

The crowd that went down on the excursion was a revelation to the promoters of the train. The railroad company asked that one hundred and fifty round-trip tickets be guaranteed and it was feared for a time that that number could not be sold. But when the time for the train to leave arrived people literally flocked to it, most of them not having procured tickets before.

The Rushville delegation was accorded a hearty welcome from Greensburg. The special was met at the Big Four station by the Greensburg band and a crowd of several hundred Greensburg people. A special effort was made to welcome Rushville people and make them feel at home. The newspapers there yesterday evening contained special notices urging the people to turn out to meet the local delegation. A committee from Greensburg came to Milroy and met the train there so as to arrange the details of the parade.

When the Rushville crowd arrived Greensburg found that it was alive and that everyone was a booster. With the Rushville band leading the parade was started to the business part of the city, a distance of a half mile. A liberal supply of "red fire" was provided on the train and the Rushville delegation proceeded to "whoop 'em up" on the way to the center of the city. The delegation was a reminder of campaign times when trips are made to adjoining cities for political rallies.

That Rushville people are boosters was evidenced by the crowd which paraded the muddy streets of Greensburg last night. Banners were carried in the parade advertising the horse show and the city. They bore

WOMAN SEVERELY INJURED

In a runaway accident near the Bert Mull farm in Orange township late Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gardner of near Gowdy were severely hurt and Mrs. Gardner is believed to have sustained injuries which may prove to be serious. Physicians believe that Mrs. Gardner suffered a broken rib. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner were driving near the Mull farm when their horse frightened at a hog lying at the side of the road. The animal reared, turned completely around and threw Mr. and Mrs. Gardner into a barbed wire fence. Their clothes were torn but they were not cut on the fence. The buggy was demolished by the horse.

Charles Shockley Makes Serious Charge Against His Wife in Complaint For Divorce.

SAYS SHE WOULD NOT COOK

Naming Nicholas Hatfield as a correspondent in a complaint filed in the circuit court today, Charles Shockley, living at 438 West Second street, asked a divorce from Lucy Shockley. The plaintiff alleges that he and the defendant were married April 10, 1900, and separated January 10, 1909, not having lived together since that time. Shockley alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and that his wife swore at him often. He complains also that she would not cook his meals and left home several times, remaining away for many days. Mrs. Shockley is now in Osgood. Shockley asks for the custody of the two children, Maude and Wilbur, age twelve and eight respectively, alleging that his wife is not a fit person to care for them.

NEW CASTLE MAN FAVORS WATSON

Tom Millikan, Banker of "Rose City"
Will Stand For Ex-Congressman
All the Time.

OTHER POLITICAL GOSSIP

Shelbyville Democrat Replies to Dispatch Alleging That Plot is Laid to Defeat Gray.

With the revival of political talk about James E. Watson "coming back" for congress in this district, many of his old-time friends are sitting up and taking notice, says the New Castle Times. One of Mr. Watson's best friends in Henry county is Thomas B. Millikan, the New Castle banker.

"You can just say for me," said Mr. Millikan, "if Jim Watson is a candidate for congress from this district and that I am for him. I'll work for him for the nomination and then I will get out and work for his election."

"I think that Jim Watson was one of the best congressmen this district ever had. He reflected great credit on this district and the people have not forgotten it, either. I am in for sending him back if he wants it, and it is my opinion that he would be an easy winner."

"I have nothing against any other good Republican for the place, but I'm a Watson man, first, last and all the time, if he wants to run. You just put me down that way."

The Shelbyville Democrat yesterday replied to the dispatch from Shelbyville in the Indianapolis Star yesterday morning which was to the effect that the announcement of Charles Hack of Shelbyville, former prosecutor of the Rush-Shelby district is the basis of a deeply laid plot to defeat Finly Gray of Connersville in the next congressional election. The Democrat denies all of the assertions of the correspondent and declares that Shelby county stands behind Gray as it did in the convention when he was nominated. The Democrat says in part as follows:

The Democrat does not know what Democrats of other counties than Shelby are doing, because it has been so quiet in political circles, but the Democrat does know that there is no plot or scheme of any kind or character being laid by the Democrats of Shelby county to defeat Congressman Gray for nomination. The majority Shelby county gave Mr. Gray in 1910 is a direct refutation that he is not popular in this county. Finly Gray carried Shelby county by 1,100 which was 299 greater than the average majority given candidates on the State ticket.

It is plain to see the reason for the article from the standpoint of the Indianapolis Star. That paper, since the courts have decided that it belongs to Dan Reid of New York, has switched from being a progressive Republican newspaper to the rankest of the stand-patters.

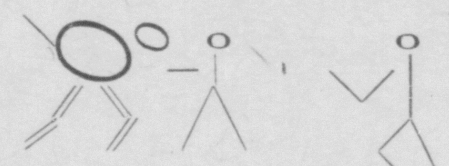

The article sounds a good deal like it might have emanated from the fertile brain of George M. Ray, formerly of this city, but now running the Indianapolis Herald. Ray has been fighting Mr. Hack through the columns of his newspaper. Ray does not want to see Mr. Hack or any other Shelby county man in a position where Ray could be kept from cadding from the State committee's treasury.

Mr. Hack will be a candidate and will make the race on his merits as an organizer. Under his leadership as county chairman, Shelby county gave the largest average majorities ever given the Democratic ticket. He is mentally equipped to make a splendid

Daffydil Doings Down In Dippy Dell

Ben L. Smith was carving his initials in the south white bridge with a knife he carried in the Civil war. Dave Havens drove through sound asleep on a load of hay. Passing the old ball grounds a boy threw a lighted cigarette between the fifth and sixth rib of the moving hay, then hid in a culvert. When the load of hay reached the race bridge it looked like the forerunner of an old-fashioned Republican rally. Just as the flames were licking around Dave's feet, and his death seemed inevitable, he sneezed and fell off the wall of fire. Luckily he rolled into the arms of Doc Davis. The veterinary gently laid the senseless form on the pavement. After throwing several buckets of water into his face, Dave regained consciousness and hopped to his feet. Wiping the cinders out of his ears he chirped:

"If Heber Allen could play a tune on the fiddle, could Doc Kin-sing-er?"

Get away from that horse's head, can't you see it's got eye teeth!

Lesson XII.—Third Quarter, For Sept. 17, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Dan. iii, 13-23
Memory Verses, 17, 18—Golden Text.
Heb. xiii, 6—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The first chapter ended with Daniel continuing. Many begin well who do not so continue, but one mark of a true disciple is patient continuance (1 Cor. xv, 58). The second chapter ends with Daniel promoted to be a great man, ruler over the whole province of Babylon and chief of the governors over all the wise men of Babylon. He also sat in the gate of the king, but we may be sure that he was there for the Lord God of Israel rather than for the king of Babylon. In his high position he did not forget his three friends, but by his request they also were set over the affairs of the province of Babylon (chapter ii, 48, 49). The vision granted to the king of Babylon and the part of the interpretation which said "Thou art this head of gold" seem to have affected him more than the words "The God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom" (ii, 37, 38), and so he caused to be made a great image all of gold and set it up in the plain of Dura and gathered all his rulers and great men to the dedication of this image.

There are in this chapter ten references to this image, as made or set up by the king, that all people might fall down and worship it. The penalty for disobedience was to be cast into a burning fiery furnace (verse 6). The importance of this man in his own estimation is seen also in chapter iv, 30, in the words, "Is not this great Babylon that I have built * * * by the might of my power and for the honor of my majesty?" He is strikingly suggestive of one soon to come who will cause to be made an image that can speak and who will kill all who will not worship his image and prevent all from doing business who have not his mark (Rev. xiii, 11-17).

His thought and manner of conduct are seen in such words as these: "I will ascend above the heights of the clouds. I will be like the Most High." "He shall exalt himself and magnify himself above every god and shall speak marvelous things against the God of gods." "Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God or that is worshiped so that he, as God, sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God" (Isa. xiv, 14; Dan. xi, 36; II Thess. ii, 4).

The end of this trio will be not a furnace of fire, but the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone and torment forever (Rev. xix, 10, 20; xx, 10). See the contrast in the future of those who worship Him and those who will rather die than worship Him (Rev. xiv, 9-11; xv, 2-4). Oh, for grace to stand as did the friends of Daniel and bow down to nothing that any man set up, whether of doctrine or good works or any scheme that is not of God.

Judging from verses 3 and 7, there must have been an immense company of people and a most magnificent and imposing celebration at the dedication of this image. It might be said that the like of it was never seen on earth before. In a sense, all the world gathered to honor the world ruler. Had Daniel's friends not been Jews and not occupying so high a position in the kingdom (verse 12) they might possibly not have been noticed, but there were envy and jealousy enough abroad to cause them to be keenly watched.

The rage and fury of the king were very great when he learned that any one had refused to bow to his image, but when his offer of a second opportunity was rejected with the words "Be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up," then his fury knew no bounds, and quickly were these three men of God cast into the burning fiery furnace (verses 13, 18-23). Note their splendid confidence in God in the words "Our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and He will deliver us out of thine hand, O king" (verse 17).

It is not His pleasure always to save us from trials and persecutions. On the contrary, we are taught to expect these things, but all in order that He may be seen and glorified in us (John xvi, 33; Phil. i, 29; Matt. v). See in their case a literal fulfillment of Isa. xliii, 2, and, though the fire slew the men who cast them into the furnace, the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was a hair of their heads singed, * * * nor the smell of fire had passed on them, because they trusted in God (verses 27, 28).

There was one with them whom even the king could see—one who is the same yesterday, today and forever, who has all power in heaven and on earth and who will be with His people in every trial and not suffer a hair to be tried beyond grace given to bear it. He was seen that day only in the furnace, and when He permits us to enter some furnace it is in order that He may be seen with us or in us.

He was specially seen in Joseph while a slave in Potiphar's house and a prisoner unjustly imprisoned. These men in the furnace were wholly unharmed and lost only the bonds which had bound them. Trials set us more free from many things to walk with God. Note in verse 29 the worldwide God honoring decree, because of their faithfulness, and in verse 30 their own further promotions.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 17, 1911.

Topic.—Living Christ in the home.—Eph. vi, 1-18. Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

Christ should be lived by the Christian in every relation of life. The individual life should be adorned by the graces and virtues that characterized His own life, and in our various relations with those who are about us we should exemplify the teachings and principles of our religion. But if there is one place above another where we need to have emphasized the importance of living Christ it is in the home. In no social relation in life is it easier to neglect the Christ life than in the home, and yet no sphere of life is more important not only in itself, but in its bearing upon all the other relations of life. We should therefore earnestly pray for grace to live Christ in the home.

The home was a sacred place to Christ. In the gospels we have frequent pictures of Christ in the home and in every instance His presence meant helpfulness or comfort or spiritual blessing. His first miracle was performed in the home and incidentally added to the peace of mind of His friends upon a festive occasion. To the home of death He brought great joy by raising the dead, and to the home of sickness He did likewise by healing the sick. His prayers in the home were a spiritual benediction, and nowhere do we have a better view of His loving character than in the interesting scenes in the home of His friends, especially in the home of Mary and Martha and Lazarus at Bethany. Frequently He was honored in the home, and we should honor Him in our homes by making them Bethels where He delights to dwell.

To live Christ in the home we must cultivate the Christian graces that should adorn life in the home. Among these we may emphasize especially love and patience and self denial. Love should be manifested in the home. The great difficulty is not that love does not exist among those bound together by the tenderest natural ties, but that it is not manifested. Let some crisis come to a member of the family and how quickly the presence of love is demonstrated. But in the humdrum routine of life how easy it is to neglect the tokens of affection. But it should not be so. Loving words and deeds should have a prominent place in every Christian home. Patience is also a needed home virtue. Where are we more impatient and yet where are patience and forbearance so much needed?

The Christian spirit of self denial should also have a prominent place in the home life. Nor should it be too one sided. There is too much of a tendency in all our homes for some to sacrifice too much and others too little. Parents and wives should not do all the sacrificing, nor should one brother or sister. Yet it is too often so. The good natured are imposed upon. There should be no imposition, but the true spirit of mutual self denial for the best interests of all.

To live Christ in the home the Christian duties peculiar to the home life must be performed. Children should obey and honor their parents. The duty of training the children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord and governing them in love and not in wrath devolves upon the parents and should be faithfully performed by them. The servants in the home should be faithful to their duties as if they were serving Christ, and the same spirit should characterize the attitude of the various members of the home toward servants.

Workers in the home should not be drudges, but should be treated with kindness and consideration. Let us cultivate these Christian home virtues and graces and faithfully perform the duties that devolve upon us in the home, and our homes, more frequently than they are, will be types of heaven, our eternal home. Let us "learn first to show piety at home," and our influence for Christ will be all the greater outside the home.

The lifetime of the Endeavor movement covers the most important period in the history of the world thus far, excepting the thirty years while Christ was walking upon it. What miracles of progress! And who shall measure the part taken by Christian Endeavor in pushing the world along?

I have just been reading Dr. Clark's account of the first meeting in Portland. How far you little candle throws its beams! I send you birthday congratulations. Last year was a great one, but better ones are coming. God be with us on the forward march! I see a light beyond the hills.—Rev. David James Burrell, D. D., LL. D.

MANY DEALERS FINED FOR VIOLATING LAWS

Indiana Pure Food Crusade Not Allowed to Stop.

Indianapolis, Sept. 15.—In various parts of the state in August fines and costs amounting to $637.20 were assessed against food dealers on complaints filed by inspectors for the food and drug department of the state board of health.

Eighty food producing and distributing places were condemned under the provisions of the sanitary food and drug law. Of these sixty-five were for unsanitary condition of the establishments, while the remainder were due to faulty construction of buildings. The greatest number was among the restaurants, of which seventeen were condemned. Eleven meat markets, sixteen grocery stores and nine bakeries were condemned. The total number of inspections made was 1,186 and only twelve places were graded excellent. Sixty-seven were rated poor.

Eighty-five specimens of food were analyzed in the laboratory, and forty-six found legal. Of these thirty-three were specimens of milk. Six specimens of ice cream contained impurities. Thirty-seven samples of drugs were examined and sixteen were found illegal.

MAXIMUM CAPACITY

Traffic Chart of Western Union, Anglo-American and Direct U. S. Cable Business, Showing Capacity of the Cables and the Proportion Now Utilized.

Proposed Modification of Existing Arrangements

A provisional modification of an arrangement which has existed for many years has been reached between the Western Union Telegraph Company, The Anglo-American Cable Company and the Direct U. S. Cable Company, under which the cable systems of these companies now worked exclusively in business connection with each other, but operated and maintained separately, will be operated in direct physical connection with each other and with the Western Union land system.

Two objects are to be attained by this arrangement:

First, more efficient and economical operation.

Second, the introduction of new forms of service to the advantage of the public.

The Trans-Atlantic Cable Situation and Competition

The trans-Atlantic cable situation is as follows:

The Mackay group of seven cables, including the German cables, owned by or worked in physical connection with the telegraph lines of that company form one system.

The French cables comprise an independent system, using both the Western Union and the Mackay land lines for their United States connection.

In competition with these is the Western Union group of cables, eight in all, owned by three separate companies, two of which are British companies owning five of the eight cables.

Two only of the British owned cables terminate in the United States and all of them are entirely dependent on the Western Union for their connection with any telegraph system, or for their reaching any centre of business, and are now worked exclusively, so far as business is concerned, with the Western Union.

Efficiency Increased, Waste Prevented

The proposed arrangement between the Western Union, the Anglo-American and the Direct U. S. companies will bring the eight cables of the three companies under one operating control. The consequent increase in effectiveness and economy will place the Western Union in a position to offer certain advantages in cable service not now enjoyed by the public.

The other way open to enable the Western Union to make such improvements and introduce such new services as it proposes to do, would be to lay new cables. This would seem to be the height of folly. Duplication of the existing trans-Atlantic cable facilities at a cost of many millions, when there are more than ample facilities for all business, would put an unnecessary financial burden upon an already fully burdened business and would probably postpone the reduction of rates or introduction of new services.

Limited Business Hours and Idle Facilities

As at present carried on, the trans-Atlantic cable business is practically all flash service, i. e. instantaneous. Owing to the difference in time, there are only a few business hours of the day common to both sides and during these hours at least 75% of the cable business is done. This is demonstrated by the accompanying chart.

In the interests of international business nothing should be done to interfere in any way with the so-called flash or instantaneous service, and the lines should be kept clear to accommodate such messages during the few business hours common to both countries; but to continue to confine the cables to this class of service, as at present, will utilize only about 25% of the existing capacity of millions of property and places on that limited service all the capital, maintenance and operating charges.

The limited time and the character of the business, if best results are to

Efficient Service Requires Sufficient Facilities

To meet these requirements it is essential not only that there be at all times sufficient cable facilities, under one control, but that they should be operated interchangeably with each other and in close physical connection with land lines as one system. Ample spare facilities are necessary to provide against the very frequent cable interruptions.

Neither the Western Union nor any one of the companies of the Western Union group has, independently of the others, facilities enough to handle the business which at times any one company might be called upon to take care of, because of some particular rush of business, or because of some cable interruption. Nor could any one company furnish all the direct circuits necessary for efficient service, although the combined facilities of these companies are ample if they could be used supplementarily to each other and interchangeably.

As it is, each company operates its own cables through separate and distinct offices and under separate and distinct management. All interchange of business is by actual transfer of the business from one company to the other, with the consequent delay and interruption of a service in which seconds are valuable.

Daily and Week-end Cable Letters

So soon as the proposed arrangement goes into effect, the Western Union purposes, with the consent of the British Post Office Department, to introduce at least two new features or services in addition to the proposed deferred rate—the and the WEEK-END CABLE LETTER at a very low rate for cable service only. This will enable the public to save the six to eight days consumed in the trans-Atlantic passage of mails.

Monopoly of Cable Business Impossible

There is no cable monopoly possible. The three systems—the Western Union, the French and the Mackay—will continue to exist.

The Mackay Companies is a holding organization with no physical property, but exercising through stock ownership, lease or contract, operating control of various companies owning land lines and cables which make up the Mackay System. Through this control all the various properties are operated as one system to great advantage in service over what could be given by these same companies if operated separately.

The French cables form another system.

The Western Union System, under the proposed arrangement for one operating control over the present segregated units, will be enabled to make two distinct advances in the trans-Atlantic cable business:

1.—BETTER SERVICE. This will be insured by more efficient and economical working resulting from single direction over the operations of both cables and land lines.

2.—PUBLIC ADVANTAGES. The greater part of the cable capacity has been and is now unutilized. It will continue to lie dormant and unutilized under existing conditions and traditions. The Western Union purposes to make these wasted facilities useful to the public by means of new kinds of cable service.

In addition, the Western Union intends to nationalize its land lines by opening them to all trans-Atlantic cable companies.

MAKING READY FOR A CRISIS.

Tenth Infantry Will Be Sent to Canal Zone.

DESIGNED AS A PRECAUTION.

Disquiet Exists In Panama, and Preparation Is Made to Meet Possible Trouble In Coming Campaign—Increasing Hawaiian Garrison.

Unsatisfactory political conditions in the republic of Panama, in which the United States government has something of a fatherly interest, are said to be mainly responsible for the movement now in progress for the establishment of a military garrison on the Panama canal. Originally it was planned to send troops to the canal zone for the better protection of that great waterway about a year or six months before the date fixed for the opening of the canal to the commerce of the world in 1915.

That something has occurred or is expected to occur in the near future is said to be indicated by the fact that an entire regiment of infantry has been ordered to proceed to the isthmus at once. The change of plans is attributed by some wisecracks to recent developments in the affairs of the Panama republic.

Possible Crisis In Fall. It is asserted in diplomatic circles that a crisis in the affairs of the republic may occur this fall when the time arrives for the presidential election there. Reports have been current for some time to the effect that the existing administration intends to prevent the holding of an election this fall. According to these rumors, the president of the republic is to take a leave of absence for six months, and during his absence there would be no one in authority to call an election. There may be no foundation for these rumors, but evidently the state department has given sufficient credence to them to bring about a change in the plans of the war department.

If there should be any disturbance in the Panama republic it might be highly important that some United States troops should be stationed at the canal; otherwise no one could be held responsible if a band of insurgents should slip over to the canal and blow up one of the locks. At the same time this might be a plan of some of the revolutionists or discontented political leaders in Panama to force intervention on the part of this country in the affairs of the Panama republic. Certain adventurous politicians in Panama might not hesitate to pursue such tactics if it would serve their purpose. At least it is said that the state department is anxious to avoid any such complication, and it is upon its recommendation that the movement of the Tenth Infantry has been hastened.

Hostilities between United States troops and any revolutionary forces that might be raised in Panama are not regarded as even a remote possibility. The presence of the Infantry regiment and the marines on the canal strip will be regarded as a sufficient protection for the canal against any hostile force that can be raised in that quarter. It is said that the Tenth Infantry is being sent to the canal zone now simply as a precaution against the possibility that a revolutionary outbreak might occur during the coming presidential campaign.

Will Sail Soon. The Tenth Infantry, which has been stationed at Fort Sam Houston, near San Antonio, Tex., for some time past, is expected to sail for Colon from Galveston on the army transport Kilpatrick shortly. It is the intention of the war department to send additional troops to Panama as soon as barracks and other accommodations can be provided for them. As rapidly as the forces working on the canal vacate their quarters they will be occupied by the soldiers. This applies to troops of the mobile army, consisting of three regiments of infantry, one squadron of cavalry and one battalion of field artillery. It is not intended to send the twelve companies of coast artillery to the isthmus until the fortifications have been completed.

Changes In Army Stations. The sending of the Tenth Infantry to Panama at this time is likely to hasten the proposed changes in the stations of troops in the United States and the Philippines, but no definite plans have yet been made. It is admitted that the sending of troops to Panama and increasing the garrisons in Hawaii will necessarily reduce the military forces in the Philippines. To provide against any material decrease in the strength of the Philippine army it is proposed to recruit all the organizations serving in the archipelago to their full authorized strength and to increase the number of coast artillery companies in that quarter. If that is done the only material reduction in the fighting force in the Philippines will be in the cavalry branch. Increased efficiency in the Philippine scouts organizations also is counted on to make up for any deficiency that may arise from the withdrawal of troops from the Philippine station.

Encourage Beekeeping. Beekeeping is to be encouraged in Great Britain by the government, which has given a preliminary $2,500 to the British Beekeepers' association.

"MAD ITCH," SERIOUS THING FOR THE COW.

Exchanges which come to this office contain mention of cattle having died from the malady known as the "Mad Itch." In this connection the Greenfield Reporter says:

"Otice Brizendine, northwest of the city, has a cow, which is suffering from a malady, known as 'Mad Itch.' The animal affected with this disease suffers horribly and finally goes mad. The disease is said to be caused by green corn, eaten by the cows after it has been chewed by hogs to extract the juice. The rosy mass becomes like a hard ball of twine in the cow's stomach and she is affected in a strange manner.

Among the first symptoms shown, the animal spreads its feet far apart and raises them with a jerk. Then the animal begins running at every moving object, scratches the skin all over the body, turns summersaults and act in an angry, wild manner generally. They finally die in great distress. There is said to be no cure.

Mr. Brizendine said that he lost three cows from this disease about fifteen years ago."

LOWERS PRICE OF FOOD STUFFS

South Bend Going After Greedy Dealers.

LOCAL MARKET THE SOLUTION

Coupled With the Activity of the Authorities in Protecting the People Against Short Weight Thieves, the Establishment of the Open Market Has Done Much There to Ease the Heavy Burden of the Poor.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 15.—Every effort to lower the price of foods is being made by the authorities here, and no one realizes it more than the poorer people, on whom, in many cases, the cost of living is a burden. Prices generally are lower than for several years, while garden truck and other foodstuffs obtainable in the new public markets are sold at a reasonable price.

Establishment of the public market has brought about a lower price on foodstuffs, although the activity of the authorities has amounted to much. But for the war waged with success on unscrupulous peddlers selling in the market the purpose of the trading place would likely have been defeated. As matters now stand peddlers are almost an unknown quantity in the market. The few remaining are under restrictions placing them on the same footing with the farmers.

Not content with the movement against the peddlers, the authorities are now engaged in a crusade against ice men and other unscrupulous dealers who seek to defraud their customers by short weight. City Sealer Peters, who is also in charge of the public market, is directing the crusades, which, he says, will continue until violation of the law is at an end.

WILL APPEAL

Pittsboro Drys Not Satisfied With Commissioners' Decision.

Danville, Ind., Sept. 15.—After recounting the ballots and canvassing the vote, the county commissioners have decided that Middle township, in which Pittsboro is situated, went wet at the local option election Aug. 30. The vote showed the wets carried the township by two votes, and the canvass shows there was one less wet vote cast in the south precinct. The election was contested by the drys on the ground of illegal votes cast and the matter was referred to the commissioners, who held that all the votes cast were legal. The drys have appealed to the Hendricks circuit court.

Lebanon, Ind., Sept. 15.—The grand jury investigation is in progress into the Whitestown wood alcohol tragedy, which resulted in the death of Ira Nease, Julius Dodson, William Hoop, Robert Hoop and the blindness of Frank L. James. The investigation will be as to whether Frank James connived to take life when he distributed the wood alcohol concoction or whether he is only guilty of a "boot-legging" charge.

Old Man Killed by Hog.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 15.—William H. Wood, aged seventy, was killed and his body literally torn to shreds on his farm near Muncie. While attempting to protect a young hog from another weighing almost 400 pounds, the older suddenly turned on Wood. He was knocked from his feet. The ferocious animal then attacked the man, killing him, and was devouring the remains when discovered by a farmhand.

DID STANDARD OIL FINANCE REVOLT?

This Is the Word Now Stirring Mexico.

Monterey, Mexico, Sept. 15.—A big stir in business and political circles of the country has been caused by the report from Mexico City that Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez has in his possession papers showing that the Madero revolution was financed by the Standard Oil company. According to the story that is told the financing of the revolution negotiations were conducted through Joaquin Casezab, attorney for the Waters-Pierce Oil company in Mexico. It is remembered during the revolution Mr. Casezab and H. Clay Pierce made several trips between New York, Washington and Mexico. The primary object of the Standard Oil in furnishing the money for carrying on the revolution was to place it in position to better conduct its fight against the Pearson interests for control of the oil business of Mexico, it is stated. Recent reports that the oil concession of the Pearson syndicate in Mexico are to be forfeited by the new government are regarded as substantiating the report of the Standard Oil interest in the revolution. Dr. Gomez, since his break with Madero, is said to have promised to make public the documents in his possession bearing on the subject.

BURNED BABY SISTER

This Little Fiend Merely "Wanted to See the Flames."

Berkeley, W. Va., Sept. 15.—While his mother went to a grocery, leaving him alone with his sister Mary, aged three, Charles Shorter, six years old, saturated the girl's clothing in kerosene and set fire to her.

Calmly filling a tub with water, he watched the flames burn themselves out, then placed the unconscious child in the water and washed her burns, tearing the blistered skin from her body and literally skinning her alive. When the mother returned home an hour later the girl was breathing her last.

The boy once set fire to the house. He can give no reason for his act except that he wanted to see flames.

The Democrats seem to think you can revise a tariff about as easily as you walk through a dry goods store and mark over the placard for a cut price sale.

The Maine election on the liquor question, like many of the local option elections in Indiana was uncomfortably close. The result is still in doubt.

About the only complaint that may be registered against the lumber trust is that it gets too much free board. All trusts should be compelled to pay their own way.

Places without a golf club are bothered as to how to entertain Mr. Taft, but if they give him a chance to hit a green apple with a crooked umbrella handle it might keep him contented for the time being.

The governors are conferring at Spring Lake, N. J. Team work between the States is needful if they are going to wallopp the trusts. Illinois should not try to steal second at the moment when New York has knocked a pop fly to J. Rockefeller.

Returns from Maine indicate that the State intends to cease being hypocritical upon the liquor question. Indianapolis Sun.

The infallible Indianapolis Sun, the leading light of Indiana, took the wrong slant at the Maine election and began to celebrate too soon. The "drys" sprung a surprise and probably show a small majority. But the Sun was not the only one. A number of "wet" papers over the State commented at length when the first returns came in and predicted a "wet" victory. They explained just how it happened to result as it did. Now how will they explain the correct result? We will await that explanation with interest.

In times of a great political upheaval it is only the surf which comes to the top and assumes the leadership while the stable and steady wave rolls on underneath waiting until the public has returned to its normal condition and is able to comprehend a sensible principle. When people are agitated they often flock with the popular side not knowing just why, but because the crowd goes. The more sober minded ones are capable of peering into the future, reading it and seeing what the trend of affairs will be. Most any man can go out on the street corner and get a following by shouting at the top of his voice something out of the ordinary and something which does not happen in the every day routine of life. Any financial statesman can appeal to the public through the press and explode such high sounding theories that they look reasonable until they are given some cool and quiet thought. Any man, no matter how small he may be, can attract a gang of shouting maniacal people about him by attacking any great principle, power, leader or institution. A politician who wishes to gain public favor, may flay the trusts, the form of government or any other stable institution, and he will have a following, because it is attacking something. He never offers a solution for the problems. He does not need to present a better plan than the one which he attacks. The public does not demand that. It does not question his ability to present a better method. All he needs to do is to attack.

A Baltimore broker who has gone broke complains bitterly: "Friends that pledged their loyalty to me time and again over my wines are cold to me now that I need them."

There are no social connections more hollow or business connections more profitless than those formed over the bottle.

The sentiments and feelings there engendered are not genuine. They are not grounded in true human nature. They do not touch the real heart-strings.

The coarse jest that one laughs at so boisterously and regards as such rare wit when drinking, seems shallow commonplace when one is sober. The good fellowship that warms the mind when maudlin appears garish and empty enough the next morning.

This is the rule. There are exceptions. If these have come to be the best associations you know, it is because you have narrowed down your opportunities and contracted your mind and heart and soul until there is room left in your life only for the worst that the world affords.

William Makepeace Thackeray was no tee-totaler—not by a jug-full. But he wrote this of drink-inflamed intimacies:

"I think the intimacy which is begotten over the wine bottle is a spirit of this nature (has not heart). I never knew a good feeling come of it or an honest friendship made by it. It is only a phantom of friendship and feeling called up by the delirious blood and the spells of wine."

It is as true today as it was when written, nearly sixty years ago. Drinking is the same sort of thing that it was in 1842, when Thackeray thus moralized upon the sad fate of one of his own schoolmates, who followed "good-fellowship" to his suicidal death, for he put a pistol to his head and blew out his brains when he was penniless and starving, deserted by his wine bottle intimates. Much the same story is told every day in every newspaper in the world.

Greensburg ought to have an idea that Rushville people are some boosters after they reflect on last night's demonstration.

It's a pretty bad sign when you're having such a good time that you have to come home on a freight.

Col. Worth, the man who tells about his fruit farms and wears diamonds that would make a blind man squint his eyes, is the big noise at the Greensburg jubilee. Already he has received a column notice in the Greensburg Democrat twice, the article in the main being a description of his diamonds and wardrobes. Apparently Jim was never in Greensburg before.

The perils of aviation are that which will justify the opinion that a good flight is nothing more than a narrow escape.

Railroads, so it is announced, are advising their employees to be courteous to farmers. It might be advantageous to Rushville people when they appear at the ticket window, to look like a farmer.

That is, of course, if the change would not require too much work.

They are offering $10,000 (or it may be $1,000,000, we can't say for certain) for the return of Mona Lisa. We can't say too many naughty things against those dreadful art thieves. We had a beautiful oil painting of Jack Johnson, all done in black, which we obtained with a couple of tobacco coupons and now it is strangely missing. Those grafters must come to Indiana. The press should take up the matter at once.

Danville Hendricks county, has passed an ordinance prohibiting tickling in the streets (or the ribs either for that matter). We have been watching the Indianapolis papers daily expecting to see that they had passed a measure stopping the practice of shaking hands.

If all reports be true those Knightstown detectives must be as blind as the tigers.

did district chairman and would be not only a credit to Shelby county, but also to the entire district.

The attempt of the Indianapolis Star to stir up dissensions among the Democrats of the Sixth district will fail of its purpose. So far as the Democrat has been able to learn, Congressman Gray will have no opposition for renomination.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion that Mr. Gray is entitled to a renomination inasmuch as he overturned a Republican majority of more than four thousand into a Democratic majority of fifteen hundred.

The New Castle Courier reproduced the Star dispatch yesterday and added the following:

The fight in the ranks of the Sixth district Democracy against Congressman Finly Gray assumed definite form Wednesday with the announcement that Charles A. Hack of Shelbyville is a candidate for chairman of the Democratic district committee. Hack is not only against Gray but is for Lon Mull of Manilla, the Rush county banker-politician, who was defeated for the nomination by Gray at the Richmond convention.

In Henry county there is a feeling that the chairmanship should be given to Dr. F. A. Bolser of this city. The Gray element in the party is for Charles Beck of Richmond and is working every string to land Mr. Beck.

Safety Razor Strop

SPECIAL FOR

98c

With this perfect strop anyone can make their safety razor blades last 10 times as long.

By its use one set of 50c blades lasts as long as 20 sets costing $5. Even new blades will shave 100% better when put on this strop before using. It's mechanically perfect—just stick the razor blade in the slot and pull the strop back and forth by the rings (see cut). No experience necessary. In a twinkling your razor is sharpened with mechanical precision. Even an inexperienced youth can't fail to get a perfect cutting edge equal to that produced by the most experienced barber you know. You'll never enjoy a shave—you'll never really know what a safety razor ought to be until you put your blades on this strop. It's a big, 2-inch wide, soft kangaroo strop, with a full 14-inch sweep, which sharpens the razor in quarter the time, as it has an actual sharpening surface 50% greater than the old-fashioned kind. This strop sharpens wafer blades and hollow ground blades with the same perfect edge. It is a regular $2 value. But we shall sell it for only 98c

ECZEMA

One of the Most Stubborn and Annoying of all Skin Troubles, Now Being Eradicated by Sulfol.

The word eczema means to 'boil out'. It is a catharral inflammation of the skin, showing a red, irritable, raw-looking fluid exuded surface, which on drying forms scabs. It is difficult to cure permanently, unless taken in hand at once, for in those subject to it it recurs readily whenever the skin is exposed to irritation. If you wish to cure eczema, purify your blood. This can be done by the use of the worlds one great remedy for the blood—sulphur. Foremost among the wonderful medical discoveries of late years is SULFOSOL, the purest of sulphur and soluble in water. SULFOSOL is Nature's gift to that large portion of humanity suffering from eczema, rheumatism, gout and all forms of blood taints and skin diseases. Get SULFOSOL of your nearest druggist or write to Sulfol Co., 72 Trinity Place, New York, for free book on Rheumatism, Blood and Skin Diseases and the successful use of SULFOSOL in their treatment.

For Toilet and Bath, Sulfol Soap is without equal. 25 cents a cake at all druggists.

GRAY HAIR WILL MAKE YOU LOOK OLD

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Quickly Vanish.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will effect the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies, but Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out and makes it beautiful.

All druggists are authorized to refund the money if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agents, Hargrove and Mullin, Druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

CONVERTED JEW SHOT STOLYPIN

Russia's Premier Mortally Wounded at Kiev.

TRAGEDY AT THE OPERA HOUSE

While Watching the Play in Company With the Czar and Dignitaries of the Court, the Premier Was Shot by a Converted Jew Lawyer Named Bogrof, Who Had Obtained a Seat Just Behind Him.

Kiev, Sept. 15.—At a performance of the opera here last night in the presence of the czar there was great excitement. Two revolver shots in succession electrified the audience and Premier Stolypin sank to the floor. Those who were near saw he was gravely hurt. There was tremendous excitement in the theater. It is reported that Stolypin's wounds are mortal. It is said that an operation for the opening of the abdominal cavity will be performed. Stolypin is in the weakest possible condition.

Tried to Lynch Assassin. St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—Prime Minister Stolypin's family has received a message saying that he was gravely wounded by an assassin at the theater at Kiev. Other dispatches describe the wound as mortal. They say that Stolypin's liver was perforated. The assassin is described as a converted Jew lawyer named Bogrof. He was seated behind the premier in the theater. The minister of finance was sitting on one side of M. Stolypin. The audience tried to lynch the Jew, but after they quieted all joined in singing the national anthem. Premier Stolypin sat in the first row of the orchestra stalls. The emperor and the dignitaries of the court witnessed the outrage, which was followed by a general stampede of the audience.

FEDERAL PROVINCES

This Is What States Are Coming to, the Governors Imagine.

Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 15.—The house of governors has sprung a new idea in American politics. It has voted to send a committee of three to appeal to the supreme court of the United States to check the "autocracy of inferior federal courts." With Governor Harmon of Ohio as chairman and Governor Hadley of Missouri and Governor Aldrich of Nebraska as the other members, the committee will protest to the supreme court that federal judges have unwarrantably forbidden states to regulate railroad rates within their boundaries. It will argue that federal courts have unconstitutionally limited the powers of state legislatures.

The pretext for the appeal will be the decision of Justice Sanborn of the United States circuit court of appeals enjoining the railroad commission of Minnesota from regulating interstate rates. The governors take the ground that unless the supreme court protects state rights the states will soon become mere federal provinces.

Became Insane at Brother's Grave. Washington, September 15.—Myrtle Smith, the pretty, youthful sister of the lad who was murdered in an Italian shoemaker's shop last Sunday—the place afterward being set on fire in an attempt to conceal the crime—went raving crazy at Mount Olivet cemetery when the body of the little victim was being lowered into the grave, and her condition is serious.

Killed Sweetheart and Self. Kenton, O., Sept. 15.—Cornered by an armed posse of one hundred farmers pursuing him as the murderer of Della Halsey, aged twenty-two, Jasper Newman shot and killed himself by firing a bullet through his brain at his father's barn, five miles from Kenton. The suicide followed the murder about four hours and was the culmination of an unhappy love affair.

Tennessee Senator Shoots Himself. Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Bending over a shotgun and pulling the trigger with his toe, Dr. John C. Brennan, forty-five years old, a physician at Cannon county, and a member of the Tennessee senate, killed himself at his home at Woodbury, Tenn.

DIEGLE AVOWS HIS INNOCENCE OF ACT

Convicted Bribe Taker Fails to "Come Through."

Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 15.—The public statement given out here by Rodney J. Diegle, sergeant-at-arms of the Ohio senate and under sentence to three years in prison as an accessory in the reputed bribing of three members of the state senate, was characterized by an avowal of innocence rather than a confession of guilt and a profession of ignorance of any wrongdoing by members of the legislature. The statement was lacking in the sensational disclosures promised and was contradictory of his repeated statement that he would tell something about the bribery cases. The attorney general, while not surprised, was greatly disappointed, because of assurances that Diegle would not only confess his own guilt, but implicate others and furnish the evidence of the crimes. Diegle's excuse for the statement is that he desired to refute the many newspaper stories which he said misrepresented him and placed him in a false position. The fact that Diegle had been in hiding here for several days past and at times in conference with attorneys for the indicted legislators satisfied the state and prosecuting attorneys that the final statement by Diegle would be worthless in so far as it might implicate others.

MADE GOOD CATCH

Kentucky Merchant Takes Burglar Single Handed and Holds Him.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 15.—Summoned from home early in the morning by a passer-by who saw a burglar in his store, J. N. Overfield, a grocer, entered armed only with a poker, felled the man after a vigorous fight and sat on him until the police came. The prisoner has been identified as Frank Willison, who escaped from jail several weeks ago while being held on a highway robbery charge.

Uniform Methods Adopted. Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Directors and inspectors of the fight on the hook worm in southern states met here to adopt uniform methods of warring on the disease in the south.

Killed Himself in Hotel. Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 15.—Edward Sharp, a retired farmer of Colfax, killed himself with a revolver in a hotel here.

THE PRESIDENT IS ON HIS WAY

Thirteen-Thousand Mile Journey Began Today.

HIS FIFTY-FOURTH BIRTHDAY

Not Only That, but It Is the Second Anniversary of the First Big Swing Around the Circle Mr. Taft Made, and the Present Trip Promises to Be Equally Momentous From a Political Point of View.

Boston, Sept. 15.—His special train loaded with bundles of documents and typewritten drafts of speeches, President Taft started this afternoon on his 13,000-mile swing around the circle. The program before Mr. Taft has been diligently prepared, and the hundred odd local companies that will be entrusted with the president's person along the route have been tipped and trained in their duties as hosts to the chief executive.

Today is Mr. Taft's 54th birthday. It is also the second anniversary of the first 13,000-mile trip which Mr. Taft made around the big circle. The territory to be covered is generally the same, though in this trip the south has been eliminated. Then, as now, the tariff was the all important issue before the country.

Then the Payne law had just been placed on the statute books. Insurgency in the middle west was rampant. Mr. Taft defended the Payne law in his last trip as the best tariff law which had ever been enacted. His Winona speech, in which that indorsement to the Payne law was given, was, from a political standpoint, the climax of the first trip. Mr. Taft lost favor in the west because of it.

Now Mr. Taft is going before the same sections of the country on the same issue. He has said that he intends to make this trip non-political as far as possible. He has arranged his schedule of speeches with this idea in mind. But he will discuss the tariff in two of his set speeches and in many of the other less important ones, and the importance of the issue will thrust it to the fore as the pivotal issue of this trip, as it was of the last one. On this trip his tariff talks will be offensive rather than defensive, as on the last trip. He will explain his vetoes of the tariff bills of last session in one speech, but this defense will not go beyond that. On the other hand, he has a hard program of aggressive tariff discussion before him to gain support for his tariff plan for a scientific revision of the tariff. It will mean six weeks of tiptoe apprehension for the politicians of the country as they follow each stage of Mr. Taft's trip and sum up the warmth of his reception across the continent. Mr. Taft leaves Beverly in tiptoe physical condition.

The Taft special is a little more sumptuous this trip than last. There are five cars in all—the presidential car, two compartment cars, for members of the party, a dining car and a baggage car.

HAMMOND IS HAPPY

Successful Outcome of Deep Waterway Project Seems Assured.

Hammond, Ind., Sept. 15.—That the Calumet river and the Indiana Harbor canal will get a big appropriation for a deeper waterway from Lake Michigan to Hammond by way of Indiana Harbor, so that a harbor may eventually be opened in this city, is a probability at the next session of congress. United States engineers from the war department have been making extended surveys with a good deal of secrecy lately. Engineer C. I. Comfort, under Colonel W. H. Bixby, obtained much data and information regarding the amount of tonnage originating in the Indiana Harbor canal. A few years ago sailing vessels docked lumber, coal and other shipping in Hammond, but the river has filled up since then. Chicago real estate men own thousands of acres along the Calumet river in this territory, and the land would triple in value were the river open to navigation.

Indianapolis Dressing Up.

Indianapolis, Sept. 15.—Indianapolis is taking on a holiday appearance preparatory to the sovereign grand lodge meeting of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows next week, the downtown streets being lavishly decorated in the Odd Fellows' colors. Wednesday will be the big day of the week, and more than 100,000 visitors are expected here for the parade, which will be held in the evening.

No McNamara Delay.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 15.—Judge Walter Bordwell has announced that the trial of John J. and James B. McNamara, alleged dynamite conspirators, would begin Oct. 11. There has been considerable rumor lately that there might be a postponement.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Rear Admiral Uriah R. Harris, U. S. N., a native of Bartholomew county, Indiana, who has been governor of the naval home at Philadelphia since April, 1910, has been placed on the retired list on account of age.

such inscriptions as "Welcome to Rushville, the latch string's always out," "Sunny Jim" will be in Rushville October 11," "Rushville, the place where boosters live," "Rushville, Opportunities' gateway," and numerous other catchy phrases.

Greensburg was out and waiting for Rushville. The downtown streets where the carnival proper is located, was jammed with people. The street along the line of march was crowded with Greensburgers. The crowd from the special train was augmented by many Rushville people who were already there for the jubilee and it appeared that there were at least one thousand people in line. The parade was made to the public square and around it. Rushville was cheered to the echo by the Greensburg crowds.

Much credit is due to the local band which accompanied the excursion train and charged nothing for its music. The car fares for twenty members of the band were paid out of a collection taken up on the train. The local musicians were liberal with their music and played on the streets of Greensburg after the parade was finished.

About one hundred Milroy people boarded the train at Milroy, all of them boosting the fall festival which will be held there October 5, 6, and 7.

That, Rushville people are alive, wide awakes and ever ready to boost their home town was evidenced by the crowd which journeyed to Greensburg. Everyone was a booster and shouting the praises of Rushville.

The delegation received the following mention in a special dispatch from Greensburg to the Indianapolis Star this morning:

Upward of 1,000 boosters arrived here last night from Rushville on a special train to visit the home-coming jubilee and to boost for a horse show which will be held in Rushville later this fall. Nearly 150 persons came from Columbus and intermediate stations on another special train. Regardless of the weather it was a big day at the jubilee.

SAYS HE IS NOT GUILTY OF THEFT

Harry Shipp Declares he Did Not Steal Hog of James Meal, Rush County Farmer.

GEORGE MASON OUT ON BOND

Jack Miller, Third Man Implicated in Alleged Robbery, is at Large Yet.

Harry Shipp of St. Paul, arrested at that place Wednesday evening by Deputy Sheriff Terry in connection with the theft of a hog belonging to James Meal of the St. Paul vicinity, pleaded not guilty to a charge of petit larceny, when arraigned in the court of Justice James D. Webb at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and asked for trial, says the Shelbyville Republican. The date for the hearing was not fixed, but will be set as soon as the young man's attorney, M. O. Sullivan and Deputy Prosecutor Cheney can agree on a time for the preliminary hearing. Shipp had been in jail since Wednesday evening and was returned there Thursday afternoon as he was unable to give bond.

George Mason, another young man arrested in connection with the incident, was bound over to the circuit court Wednesday from the court of Justice Webb and was released on bond. A third young man implicated in the theft of the hog is Jack Miller of St. Paul, but he is still at large as Deputy Sheriff Terry was not able to find him Wednesday on his visit to St. Paul.

The hog was stolen last Thursday night from the stock pens at St. Paul, where it had been taken by Mr. Meal with a drove of hogs he intended to sell. He alleges the young men disposed of the hog to Emmett Favors of St. Paul, at six and a half cents a pound. Mason is said to have admitted that he and his chums took the hog, but he says they did it merely as a joke and while under the influence of liquor and that they turned it loose near the home of J. S. Aley.

AGREEMENT WITH COUNCIL

I. & C. Traction Company Will Raise Tracks in Shelbyville.

Charles L. Henry, president of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction lines, and Attorney Claude Cambern of Rushville, together with several members of the city council, held a meeting Thursday afternoon and the matter of raising the tracks in South Harrison street was taken up, says the Shelbyville Republican. Mr. Henry agreed to raise the tracks on the south end of Harrison street to a level with the tracks in North Harrison street, but this will not put the tracks to the same grade with the remainder of the street. He promised that next year the tracks through the city would be raised to a level with the other part of the street. This work will be commenced in a short time.

DREAD DISEASE FOUND NEAR HERE

Infantile Paralysis in Typical Form is Discovered in Farm Home Near St. Paul.

SMALL BOY IS THE SUFFERER

Twelve-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. August Theobald is Paralyzed on One Side.

Poliomyelitis has appeared in this section of the State and much apprehension is felt for fear an epidemic will become current, says the St. Paul Telegram. Frank, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. August Theobald, living four miles east of town, has the disease and is paralyzed over the entire left side.

The boy had been ill for several days and the physicians who first waited upon him were unable to diagnose the case. Later Dr. J. W. Bell of this place, was called and he at once diagnosed the child's illness due to infantile paralysis. He says that the boy's condition is serious and that he may not recover. The Theobald home is under strict quarantine to prevent further contagion and a possible epidemic of the dread disease.

This disease during the past year has made wide inroads, being prevalent in many States, menacing the lives of hundreds.

Last year in Indiana no less than 300 cases occurred with sixty reported deaths and at least 150 cripples. The disease so far has been more prevalent during warm weather than in cold. In the summer of 1907, New York City was visited by an epidemic in which 2,500 cases were reported. In 1909 Nebraska had an outbreak of 1,000 cases. A prominent physician in talking of the disease said: "The disease is plainly contagious and spreads along lines of communications." Early symptoms of the disease may be noted: Anorexia, vomiting and diarrhea, high fever, pain, which may be severe in the head, joints, limbs, neck, etc. Fever, pain and sweating are symptoms common in the majority of all cases.

BAKERY BURNED.

Carthage Citizen: Merrill Coffin, who owned a bakery at Laurel, was burned out Monday night. His stock was partially covered by insurance. He bought the shop a year ago the 24th of this month at a bargain price and had built up a good business. He is here for the present with his father, Enos Coffin. Although the citizens of Laurel urge him to return and to open a new shop, he is undecided on what course to pursue. The fire is said to have originated in the rear of a barber shop adjoining the bakery.

New Fall Styles Simply Irresistible

The present inclination is toward artistic simplicity in dress. And it produces an effect that is nothing short of fascinating.

You see a plain tailored garment hanging on the rack and wonder at its unassuming appearance.

You put it on and stand before the mirror lost in admiration.

The long, slightly curved lines, lend more grace to your figure than you ever dreamed possible.

You finger the material and find it exquisitely fine and soft, or else one of the unmistakably smart Scotch tweeds.

You look it over in detail and you find the tailoring flawless.

You take another look in the mirror and see the "custom-made" effect. All these combine to make the simple appearance of the garment wholly charming and quite irresistible.
